
Litters without webcams

Posted by diwelle - 2009/06/08 12:52

From now on, there is a new category for litters that have no camera pointed to them. We understand some members do not have working cameras and would like to share with the canine loving community. Please note, this new category is subject to all of the usual Whelp Watch rules. Any litter without a camera that is listed on the Whelp/Puppy camera page will be removed by me, and the poster will be asked to kindly move the topic to the appropriate category.

Thank you!
Dian
